Program Summary

Washington Campus Compact AmeriCorps members will recruit, train, and support 600 college student volunteers to serve as College Access Coaches to 4,500 economically disadvantaged (ED) 4th-12th grade youth in schools and community-based after-school programs throughout the states of Washington and Oregon. At the end of the first program year, the AmeriCorps members will be responsible for: increasing academic engagement of ED youth; increasing academic preparedness for post-secondary education of ED youth; increasing knowledge about college options and the college experience among ED youth and their families; and increasing knowledge about how to apply to and pay for post-secondary education among ED youth and their families. In addition, the AmeriCorps members will leverage an additional 1,200 volunteers who will be engaged in National Days of Service or other community service events. This program will focus on the CNCS focus area of Education.
